To whom it may concern,

So Now You Know was personally a rich and rewarding experience! Having the opportunity to share a part of my story with the community and hearing the stories of the other cast members was an unforgettable experience! The dances were fun and exciting and it was a wonderful to learn and perform the choreography.

Janet and Ryan were nothing but kind and considerate the whole time! Janet never asked me to stress my artificial knee, and was careful about Shirley's hearing aids. The whole cast has been so caring and helpful to us older folk! The professional dancers were great and very helpful to us novices!

So Now You Know is a unique show that can draw a community together, delight an audience and make live theater accessible to all! Any community would be indeed fortunate to have this show!

Blessings,
